Investment Risks

The Fund is subjected to investment risks including the possible loss of the principal amount invested. The value of the units may fall as well as rise. In addition, The Fund is subjected to specific risk including and not limiting to:

General Risks when Investing in The Fund

Market Risk

Market risk refers to potential losses that may arise from adverse changes in the market conditions. Market conditions are generally, affected by, amongst others, economic and political stability. If the market which the Fund invests in suffers a downturn or instability due to adverse economic or political conditions, this may adversely impact the market prices of the investments of the Fund.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk refers to two scenarios. The first scenario is where an investment cannot be sold due to unavailability of a buyer for that investment. The second scenario is where the investment is thinly traded. Should the investments in the Sub-Fund be thinly traded, this may cause the Fund to dispose the investment at an unfavorable price in the market and may adversely affect investor's investment. This risk may be mitigated through stringent security selection process.

Inflation Risk

This refers to the likelihood that an investor's investments do not keep pace with inflation, thus, resulting in the investor's decreasing purchasing power even though the investment in monetary terms may have increased.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is a general risk affecting conventional funds. This is so even though conventional funds only invest in investments that are in accordance with the mandate. The reason for this is because a high level of interest rates will inevitably affect corporate profits and this will have an impact on the value of both equity and debt securities. This risk is crucial in a bond fund since a bond portfolio management depends on forecasting interest rate movements. Prices of bonds move inversely to interest rate movements therefore as interest rates rise, the prices of bond decrease and vice versa. Furthermore, bonds with longer maturity and lower profit rates are more susceptible to interest rate movements.

Credit / Default Risk

Bonds are subject to credit / default risk in the event that the issuer of the instrument is faced with financial difficulties, which may decrease their credit worthiness. This in turn may lead to a default in the payment of principal and interest.

Risk of Non-Compliance

This risk arises from non-compliance with laws, rules and regulations, prescribed practices and the management company's internal policies and procedures, for example, due to oversight by the management company. Such non-compliance may force the management company to sell down securities of the Fund at a loss to rectify the non-compliance and in turn may adversely affect the value of investors' investment in the Fund. To mitigate this risk, the Fund Manager has put in place internal controls to ensure its continuous compliance with laws, rules and regulations, prescribed practices and the Fund Manager's internal policies and procedures.

Concentration Risk

This is the risk of a fund focusing a greater portion of its assets in a smaller selection of investments. The fall in price of a particular equity and / or fixed income investment will have a greater impact on the funds and thus greater losses. This risk may be minimized by the manager conducting even more rigorous fundamental analysis before investing in each security.

Management Company Risk

The performance of the Fund depends on the experience, expertise and knowledge of the management company. Should there be lack of any of the above qualities by the management company, it may adversely affect the performance of the Fund.

Currency Risk

The Fund is denominated in MYR, while the Sub-Fund may be denominated in other currencies. The performance of the Fund may be affected by movements in the exchange rate between the MYR and the Sub-Fund's denominated currency.

Derivatives Risk

Derivatives may potentially be used to hedge against any risk that may be derived from investing in the Sub-Fund, such as, but not limited to, currency risk.

Specific Risks when Investing in the Sub-Fund

Security Risk

Adverse price movements of a particular security invested by the Sub-Fund may adversely affect the Sub-Fund's net asset value. The Sub-Fund Manager strives to mitigate the impact of a particular security risk through portfolio diversification, which will help spread the element of risk.

Fund Management of Sub-Fund Risk

While the Fund Manager will exercise due skill and care in selecting the Sub-Fund, it does not have control over the management of the Sub-Fund and there is no guarantee that the investment objectives will be met. This may result in policyholders suffering losses in their investments in the Sub-Fund.

The Sub-Fund may change its objectives and become inconsistent with the objective of the Fund. In such instances, the Fund Manager will replace the Sub-Fund with another collective investment scheme which the Fund Manager considers to be more appropriate in meeting the objective of the Fund.

Errors in Calculation of the Net Asset Value of the Sub-Fund's Risk

There is a possibility there are errors in calculation of the net asset value of the Sub-Fund. In the event such errors occur, the net asset value of the Sub-Fund will be affected hence, the Sub-Fund will comply with the rules set forth in the relevant regulatory provisions applicable to the Sub-Fund. Compensation, if any, paid by the Sub-Fund (subject to the laws of the jurisdiction in which such Sub-Fund is domiciled), will be credited to the Fund as and when compensation is received.

In view of the foregoing, policyholders must be aware that there are circumstances where neither the Sub-Fund nor the Fund Manager will be bound to compensate final beneficial owners.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk here refers to two scenarios. The first scenario is where the allocated liquidity of the Sub-Fund is insufficient to meet redemption needs. The second scenario is where the Sub-Fund is thinly traded. Should the investments in the Sub-Fund be thinly traded, this may cause the Sub-Fund to dispose the investment at an unfavorable price in the market and may adversely affect investors' investment. This risk may be mitigated through stringent security selection process.

Countries or Foreign Securities Risk

This risk is associated with investments in securities listed or domiciled in countries other than the country of domicile. Any changes in the economic fundamentals, social and political stability, uncertainty or changes in countries' official currencies, currency movements and foreign investments policies in these countries may increase the volatility in asset values, liquidity and default risk which may have an impact on the prices of the securities that the Sub-Fund invests in and consequently may affect the net asset value of the Sub-Fund.

Investments in certain markets may be restricted or controlled. In some countries, direct investments in securities may be prohibited and restricted due to regulatory requirements. These limitations may increase transaction costs and adversely affect a security's liquidity and the price in connection with the security.

The Sub-Fund Manager will monitor and observe the developments in these countries where assets of the Sub-Fund are allocated. In addition, the Sub-Fund Manager will also employ a systematic investment process, which includes regular review, to manage and mitigate this risk.

Currency Risk

The Sub-Fund's underlying investments may be denominated in their local currency, which may differ from the Sub-Fund's currency of denomination. The performance of the Sub-Fund may be affected by movements in the exchange rate between the local currency of its underlying investments and the Sub-Fund's denominated currency.

Charges to Capital Risk

The Sub-Fund's charges and expenses are taken from the capital, in whole or in part, resulting in possible constraint of capital growth.

Restrictions on Foreign Investment

Some countries prohibit or impose substantial restrictions on investments by foreign entities. There may also be instances where a purchase order subsequently fails because the permissible allocation to foreign investors has been filled, depriving the Sub-Fund of the ability to make its desired investment at the time.

Derivatives Risk

The Sub-Fund Manager may invest in derivatives which will be subject to risks. While the judicious use of derivatives by professional investment managers can be beneficial, derivatives involve risks different from, and, in some cases, greater than, the risks presented by more traditional securities investments. Some of the risks associated with derivatives are market risk, management risk, credit risk, liquidity risk and leverage risk. Investments in derivatives may require the deposit or initial margin and additional margin on short notice if the market moves against the investment positions. If no provision is made for the required margin within the prescribed time, the investment may be liquidated at a loss. Therefore, it is essential that such investments in derivatives are monitored closely.

The Sub-Fund Manager has the necessary controls for investments in derivatives and have in place systems to monitor the derivative positions for the Sub-Fund. The Sub-Fund Manager does not intend to use derivatives transactions for speculation or leverage but may use them for efficient portfolio management and/or risk management. Currency risk is simply one of the market risks which the fund will be exposed to and can be hedged using derivatives such as FX forwards/futures. Often the underlying currency risk may be taken on as a result of buying an underlying equity or bond. If the Sub-Fund Manager does not want to also take the currency risk associated with these underlying assets, the Sub-Fund may use Forward Foreign Exchange contracts to hedge any currency risk derived from holdings of non-base currency positions. Essentially this use of currency forwards is to hedge currency risk in the Sub-Fund.

The above should not be considered to be an exhaustive list of the risks which potential policyholders should consider before investing in The Fund. Potential policyholders should be aware that an investment in The Fund may be exposed to other risks of exceptional nature from time to time.

Risk Management

Forecasting Risk

Potential risks are taken into consideration in the process of sector allocation and stock selection based on analysis on various key factors such as economic conditions, liquidity, qualitative and quantitative aspects of the securities.

System Control

Risk parameters are set internally for each fund, depending on client's risk profile. These risk parameters include limits of issuer bet, group issuer, sector rating and issue size of the securities held in the portfolio.

A front-end office system is in place to monitor portfolio risks, serving as an auto filter for any limitations or breaches.
